1. The Rumanian Securitatea is disturbed by a group of saboteurs including engineers, technicians and laborers, operating in the Valea Prahovei oil fields in the Ploesti district. They are reported as working in other fields in the Ploesti area.
2. There have been purges throughout the petroleum syndicates. At Urlati several engineers and technicians are known to have been arrested, though there is no report of the number or identity. There was agitation among the employees when the "norms" were increased. A stricter, almost military discipline, is being introduced among the workers.
